

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

We are an elderly retired couple with a cell phone in our car which we rarely use. We carry it in case of an emergency. We have been retired on a fixed income for almost 20 years. You surely know what inflation has done to our standard of living during that time. We urge you to reject proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. We are concerned that this proposal could make our current service unaffordable.

Sincerely,

Henry NeSmith 903D Stratford Ct.
